Markus Lüpertz

The Phillips Collection presents the first comprehensive survey in the U.S. of the monumental works of Markus Lüpertz (b. 1941), the acclaimed German artist who helped chronicle and shape the postwar image of his country. Comprised of nearly 50 selections, the exhibition traces Lüpertz's career from the 1960s to his most recent works, including major examples of his perplexing "dithyrambic" paintings and his provocative manipulations of German motifs. The exhibition is curated by Phillips Director Dorothy Kosinski in close collaboration with the artist and Michael Werner Gallery. Markus Lüpertz coincides with the Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden's focused exhibition Markus Lüpertz: Threads of History (May 24–September 10). Together, the two presentations form the artist's first major U.S. museum retrospective.

Admission for all other art on view:

Weekends: $12 for adults, $10 for students as well as visitors 62 and over; free for members and visitors 18 and under; FREE weekdays, includes permanent collection

August 3 through September 17, 2017
Opening Reception: August 10, 5–7 pm

2017 James McLaughlin Memorial Staff Show
For more than 25 years, The Phillips Collection has held a staff show to feature the works of artists employed at the museum. In 1984, the staff show was endowed by the family of James McLaughlin, an accomplished still-life painter who worked at the museum for 50 years. In 1932, McLaughlin began his association with Duncan Phillips as a student at the Phillips Gallery Art School. Until his death in 1982, McLaughlin played an active role in the museum's activities as a gallery preparator and curator.

Moving Forward, Looking Back: A Collection Still in the Making: Selections from The Phillips Collection Archives
In 1921, Duncan Phillips established The Phillips Collection in his family's 1897 house in historic Dupont Circle. From the outset, the museum has been dedicated to its founder's vision to be "an intimate museum combined with an experiment station." This selection of photographs, exhibition announcements, Christmas cards, letters, journals, and more from the museum's archives reveal how The Phillips Collection has been an "experiment station" for nearly 100 years.

PERMANENT COLLECTION

Ongoing

One of the world's finest collections of modern and contemporary American and European art, the museum is home to Pierre-Auguste Renoir's iconic Luncheon of the Boating Party, Jacob Lawrence's epic Migration Series, and a chapel-like Rothko Room, as well as innovative new work by artists of today. Installations change frequently and are not chronological, sparking conversations across time and place.

PHILLIPS AFTER 5—August 3

Reservations strongly recommended for Phillips after 5 as this popular event tends to sell out in advance. $12; $10 for visitors 62 and over and students. Members always admitted free, no reservation needed.

5–8:30 pm

Trukfest

Guten Appetit! Come hungry for the annual food truck Phillips after 5. Grab a bite to eat at one of the many food trucks, venture into the museum to create a collage with the Heurich House Museum inspired by the artwork of Markus Lüpertz, and listen to jamming music from Granny & The Boys.

GALLERY TALK

6, 6:30, 7, & 7:30 pm

15-minute focused discussions about works in the permanent collection

EVENTS

OPEN CONVERSATION

August 17

6:30 pm

Azam Ahmed

Azam Ahmed, Bureau Chief for Mexico, Central America, and the Caribbean at The New York Times, will lead a #PhillipsConversation about constructing and destroying walls. Guided by works in Markus Lüpertz, the discussion will explore the larger political and cultural effects of structures like the former Berlin Wall and the proposed American wall with Mexico. This discussion is part of a series of open conversations that further engage audiences on larger issues represented in the special exhibition. Included with admission to special exhibition.
